As THC Drinks Take Off, RI Hospitality's New Training Program Is Drawing National Attention

Ever wondered just how much of a THC-infused beverage you can drink before getting high?

Now there's a class for that.

The Rhode Island Hospitality Association — the state's sixty-three-year-old trade organization representing the food, beverage, hotel, tourism and casino industries — announced last month it had launched a new THC-infused beverage service training program for hospitality professionals. It's the first of its kind offered by a state hospitality association and complements the group's other training programs in food safety, alcohol service and other certifications.
